

Komatsu Lift Truck Masts

Komatsu Forklift USA Inc serves the markets of North America, Central and Latin America, Mexico, South America and the Caribbean. The company adheres to ISO 9001 specifications and maintains internal quality standards.

Beginning from raw material, the facility fabricates and welds the individual components of the forklifts, followed by preparing and painting them. The components are then assembled into a composite whole forklift. The entire process is carried out under strict supervision. The company has set up a nationwide dealer network which is connected to the headquarters through a real-time computer infrastructure.